PERSONAL—Our genial and whole-souled young friend, Mr. B. S. Ashby, formerly of this place, made glad the hearts of his many friends at Groesbeck by a few days visit here this week. Mr. A. is en route to visit his friends and relatives at his old home in Virginia, and we suspect that ere he returns he will have abandoned the life of a celibate, and launched his little craft on the rugged waters of the "sea of life," with one of Virginia's fairest daughters as first-mate. Bert's as good a fellow as ever, told a story, or took a "twig," and it was his suspicion he was endeavoring this summer period of extending our "congrats" and wish him a long and happy life of enviable prosperity.—Groesbeck Clarion.

A NEW RAILROAD ARRANGEMENT—A connecting link is being put in at Benning's station, on the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad, by which the trains of the Virginia, Midland and Great Southern Railroad being brought in to the city over the Alexandria and Washington Railroad will run over the Baltimore and Potomac track to that point and thence on the Washington City and Point Lookout road to Bladensburg and over the Washington branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to Baltimore. From the Mayor's office Mrs. McGuigan went to Justice Whittlesey's office, and had a peace warrant issued against Mrs. Brown, and that case will be tried on Monday.

THE MARKET, this morning, was tolerably well supplied. The butchers had excellent veal, lamb, mutton and good beef at usual prices. Vegetables were abundant. Perkins, Judges of Election of the city of Petersburg, arrested by the U. S. Marshall on a charge of violating the Enforcement Act, was concluded in this city, before Commissioner Pleasants, yesterday evening, when the accused, through counsel, waived a further examination before a commissioner who thought that the presumption of law was that a prisoner brought before him should be deemed guilty until his innocence was proven; and gave bail in the sum of $1,500 each to appear before the next grand jury of the United States District Court of the city of Richmond, to meet in October, 1874. The Commissioner in giving his decision held that the law of Congress only requires that voters should be twenty-one years of age, and that the refusal to allow them to vote upon their affidavit was an illegal preventing and hindering.

Catholic Benevolent Union.

NORFOLK, June 13.—The Catholic Benevolent Union reassembled yesterday morning at St. Mary's Hall, President Kilgour in the chair.

A committee was appointed to escort M. J. Griffith, esq., Secretary of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union of the United States, to the stand, upon taking which Mr. G. made a very interesting and happy address, paying a high tribute to the Virginia delegates who have heretofore attended the national conventions.

He said the churches of America contain at present some two hundred and forty-one societies, numbering in all some 35,000 members, and some fifteen or twenty more societies have applied for admission, which will swell the National Union to some 50,000. He hoped that the Virginia society would hold its own in the National Union, where its ability and efficiency were acknowledged.

Several committees were appointed, and a recess was taken for half an hour to give them time to prepare reports.

The committee on resolutions reported the following:
Resolved, That this Convention take into consideration the propriety of establishing an educational fund by annual assessment for the instruction of orphan and destitute children.

Resolved, That the President appoint a committee of one from each society represented in this Convention to consider the feasibility of establishing an industrial school for the benefit of Catholic orphans of the diocese; which was deemed impracticable now.

A resolution was adopted requesting the Secretaries of the various societies in the Union to send names of all the deceased members during the year to the Secretary of the Union ten days previous to the annual meeting.

A resolution relative to the manner of presenting the local societies of Virginia in the Union in the National convention was adopted.

A committee on the constitution reported that no change was necessary.

The chairman of the committee on assessments submitted his report, changing the assessment from 25 to 20 cents each for the ensuing year.

The Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were read and accepted.

The selection of a place to hold the convention being next in order, Martinsburg, W. Va., was declared the unanimous choice of the convention.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Wm. Kilgour, of Alexandria; Vice-President, M. J. Glennon, of Norfolk; Secretary, William A. Walsh, of Portsmouth; and Treasurer, Dr. Griffith, of Fredericksburg. John O'Connor, Jr., of Portsmouth, was elected delegate from the convention to represent the Union at the Independent Catholic Benevolent Union convention to be held in Baltimore next October.

The new officers having qualified, were acknowledged by the Union.

After the adoption of the usual resolutions of thanks to the societies, people, &c., the convention adjourned sine die.

From Sitka.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The Superintendent of the Seamen's Retreat at Stapleton, Staten Island, has received the following communication from a friend on the Illinois:

"On our return to Sitka we picked up the crew of the United States schooner Margaretta and brought them to Sitka, with that portion of the wreck which the Indians did not steal, chains, windlass &c. The Indians in Sitka are now fighting with one another. The fighting has lasted three days. They have thrown up barricades of rocks &c. In a fight this morning three men were killed and two wounded. Our steamer is anchored between two parties who are fighting within fifty yards of the beach. They only fight when the tide is out. This morning I watched them from our steamer with our glass and saw them carry off their dead and at noon I saw them burn the bodies, it being customary among these Indians to burn their dead. In their fighting they use principally knives and spears. There is no telling when they will stop. The U. S. troops do not interfere to stop them for fear of trouble from them."

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

The automatic car coupling, spoken of some time ago as the invention of the Rev. J. Dix Mills, of this city, has been the subject for some days past of the most rigid tests as to its efficiency and practical value at Baltimore by prominent railroad officers and machinists, and pronounced by them a complete success. This coupling differs, it is said, from any heretofore invented in being strictly automatic.

The interest in the proposed regatta of Monday is growing, and the indications are that there will be a large attendance and considerable friendly rivalry. A large number of persons from this city were present at the Pluey branch track near Washington yesterday afternoon to witness the race that was to have been run there, but which was prevented by the rain.
